The Dark Side of Marlboro
Walking Tour

Drownings, jailbreaks, murders?
It didn't happen in Marlboro! ...Or did it?
Meet in the Marlboro Library front parking lot on Sunday, October 22 for a spooky walking tour through town. A guide will take you to various historical sites and relate long forgotten tales unearthed in our Local History collection and online. Finish off your tour with seasonal refreshments!

The tour is approximately an hour long,
and two different tour times will be available:
Twilight tour: 5:00 p.m. - Nighttime tour: 6:30 p.m.

In-person registration for this event is required.
Spaces are limited. Tickets are $5 and are available at the circulation desk. This tour is for ages 18 and up, ages 12 and up permitted if supervised by an adult.
Comfortable footwear is recommended.
Raindate: Monday, October 23.

Gilded Age Scandals

On Thursday, November 2 at 7:00 p.m. come and see a one of a kind presentation. Don Fraser, Educator at Staatsburgh State Historic Site (Mills Mansion) will tell the true stories that made millionaires blush at the turn of the 20th century. Heiresses for sale, an outraged brother horsewhips his sister's fiancé, the very public murder of a celebrity...and what did the new American bride notice about the village children near her aristocratic husband's castle?
Staatsburgh's owners, Ruth and Ogden
Mills, were models of respectability – but their Gilded Age friends were not!
We'll explore the scandals that filled the Society Pages 100 years ago...and recount one or two stories that were too racy for the newspapers. RSVP at marlborolibrary.org, walk-ins welcome.

The History of Bannerman's Island

Join us on Thursday, October 19 at 7:00 p.m. in the Marlboro Library community room to learn about a local Hudson Valley landmark, Bannerman's Island. For generations, boaters and train passengers have been mystified by the sight of Bannerman Castle, looming on a small island in the Hudson River. Visiting authors, Wes and Barbara Gottlock will discuss the book Bannerman Castle, which unveils the history of this site as an arsenal built to resemble Scottish castles. Today, it is a major tourist attraction in the Mid-Hudson Valley Region, offering not only history tours, but various forms of live entertainment. RSVP at marlborolibrary.org, walk-ins welcome.

Holiday Dessert Class

On Thursday, November 9 at 6:30 p.m. join Holly Shelowitz, Culinary Nutrition Educator and Certified Nutrition Counselor for this interactive cooking demonstration. She will prepare three desserts in a live cooking demonstration, and show you how easy it is to use the local bounty of the season in your kitchen. The class is free and includes tastings and recipes! Registration is required to attend. Visit our website, [marlboro-

CHILDREN'S FALL PROGRAMS

Online registration will begin at 10:00 a.m. on September 11

The bus company is unable to provide us with a contract this year, therefore there will be no bus transportation from the school to the Library. If a child is absent and will miss any after-school programming, please notify Miss Alyssa by calling her at the Library, 236-7272, ext. 217. If she misses your call, please leave her a message.

Please note:

- When Marlboro Schools are closed, there are no programs.
- When Marlboro Schools have a delay, there are no morning programs.
- When Marlboro Schools cancel after-school activities, there are no after-school library programs.

Fee: $25 for nonmembers (check or money order made payable to AARP), $20 for AARP members (please write your AARP membership number on the check). Everyone needs to bring their driver's license, a pen, and a bag lunch. Class size is limited to 30 participants.

Hidden Treasures of the Hudson Valley

Join us in the community room on Thursday, October 12 at 7:00 p.m. for a presentation by local author, Anthony Musso, on his book Hidden Treasures of the Hudson Valley. Mainstream historic sites in New York's Hudson Valley, such as the Franklin D. Roosevelt Home and Presidential Library and the Vanderbilt Mansion, attract huge numbers of tourists every year. Meanwhile, a number of relatively unknown yet historically significant locales in the region, for the most part, go unnoticed. Musso will discuss these widely unknown and/or less traveled paths of treasures that exist in many communities throughout the region. Copies of his book will be available for purchase. RSVP at marlbrolibrary.org to let us know you are coming. Walk-ins welcome!

YOGA FOR BEGINNERS

Thursdays, September 14, 21 & 28
7:00 p.m.

These classes will provide participants with an introduction to the fundamentals of yoga. Alyssa Scalora of Alma Yoga, will explain the proper alignment of each basic pose while connecting the poses with proper breathing techniques. No prior experience with yoga is needed to attend these workshops. Spaces are limited, registration required at marlbrolibrary.org. If attending all three classes, you must register for each date. Classes are non-sequential. Bring your own yoga mat.

MEDITATION CLASS

Tuesday, October 17
7:00-8:30 p.m.

Join our instructor, Traci Halpin, longtime practitioner of meditation to learn the basics of meditation. The program will teach the meaning of meditation, discuss different ways to meditate, (there's no wrong or right way) and learn the many benefits of meditation based on the instructor's experience and research. Attendees will practice a basic meditation focusing on the breath, sharing experiences, and Traci will answer any questions. Spaces are limited, registration required at marlbrolibrary.org. Registrants are encouraged to wear comfortable clothes and bring their own cushion if they would like to sit on the floor.

JOB LAB RETURNS

Job seekers are encouraged to register for a laptop computer Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. beginning September 6, when we turn the Community Room into a Job Help Lab, consisting of six laptops, a printer and staff who will assist with resume and search questions. To see the schedule and register visit marlbrolibrary.org.

BOOK TURKEY CRAFT

Perhaps you saw our book turkey at the circulation desk last year? Now you can make your own! Join us at the Library on Wednesday, November 1 at 7:00 p.m. to create your very own unique Thanksgiving centerpiece from a recycled book. Have fun crafting with friends and wow all of your family this holiday. Materials provided. Spaces are limited, registration required at marlbrolibrary.org. (See back of newsletter for more crafts!)

Book Club meets on the last Wednesday of the month in the Library community room at 7 p.m. The Book Club will meet to discuss Gone with the Wind by Margaret Mitchell and Shogun by James Clavell on September 27. Copies will be available for checkout at the Main Desk. Please join us!
